

WHAT IS ISO?

ISO stands for the International Organization for Standardizations which currently comprises the national standards bodies of 91 nations. Its function is to develop global standards in an effort to improve the exchange of goods and services internationally.

The ISO 9001:2008 standard is Quality Management Standard.

Compliance to ISO 9001:2008 standard

Compliance to ISO 9001:2008 standard is demonstrated by registering a Client's quality system to the ISO 9001:2008 standard. The process involves a review of the Client's documentation and on-site audits performed by a certification body. Upon approval of corrective actions implemented to correct any deficiencies found, a certificate is given granting registration. Surveillance visits assure the maintenance of the Client's quality system.
